

Breakfast Republic to Hatch New Location in Irvine

San Diego's Breakfast Republic, is coming to Orange County in late fall 2018. Known for its menu items and quirky breakfast-inspired décor, this popular morning destination has grown at a record rate since the opening of its first location in San Diego in 2015.

The eatery's popular morning fare is what keeps San Diegans coming back for more, including a plethora of revamped classics like Oreo Cookie Pancakes, Breakfast Hot Dogs and their glorious Mashed Potato Omelet. Pair this with egg-shaped waiting room chairs, punny sayings on the walls, rooster artwork and whisk-styled light fixtures, and it's clear that this breakfast haven is transcending the brunch realm with true ingenuity and unparalleled branding.

As a part of the San Diego-based Rise & Shine Restaurant Group, this will be the consortium's eleventh location, in addition to seven other Breakfast Republic outposts and three Fig Tree Café locations around San Diego. Rise & Shine's owner, Johan Engman, has become a local icon and industry pioneer, with his travel-driven inspiration and undying hunger for innovation feeding his growing restaurant empire.

Get ready, Orange County foodies, because Breakfast Republic is about to rock your roost! Breakfast Republic will be perched at 4213 Campus Dr., Irvine, CA 92612. For more information, visit www.breakfastrepublic.com.
